Important: Quebec residents

- If you appoint your married or civil union spouse as your beneficiary, they will be irrevocable (meaning you cannot change your beneficiary or perform certain transactions such as making withdrawals (where permitted) without their consent) unless you check the box below:
I designate my married or civil union spouse revocably
- The death benefit will be paid to the tutor(s) of a beneficiary who is a minor (generally the parents) or the tutor or curator of a beneficiary who otherwise lacks legal capacity unless a formal trust has been established by will or separate contract (in which case, designate the trust as beneficiary in this section)

Unless the law requires otherwise, if one of your primary beneficiaries predeceases you, their share will be paid to the surviving primary beneficiaries in equal shares, or if there is no surviving primary beneficiary(ies), to your contingent beneficiary(ies) named below. If there is no contingent beneficiary(ies), the benefit will be paid to your estate.
